Event Summary

The TARC team presented to a group of senior citizens in the ElderServe program. Presentation covered the facts of TARC's current financial system, the key questions the TARC 2025 Concepts phase is asking the Louisville community, and a detailed description of the concepts and next steps of the TARC 2025 process. There was extended time for questions after. One audience member wondered if TARC raising fares price would help with financial situation. Another was concerned that sidewalks were too short and buses were not able to lower down enough for elderly people boarding and some also asked TARC to look at environmental grant for the Federal Government to balance budget.

Participant Description

West End residents. Approximately 100 percent Black. Most had been or TARC or are current riders.
